

To Whom It May Concern,

Dr. Johnson at Innovations Medspa has been integral to several recent product launches of new Thermage technology, as his practice provides prompt, thorough feedback during pre-market trials and evaluations. In the first half of 2008, Dr. Johnson and his practice evaluated the new 16.0cm<sup>2</sup> treatment tip prior to its commercial launch. In addition, when the company was preparing to roll out a new and improved version of the tip, Dr. Johnson completed several trial treatments to evaluate the technology for us. Finally, the Company has asked Dr. Johnson and his practice to evaluate a new Thermage platform during the summer of 2009 in order to gather pre-launch clinical, patient and user feedback. This evaluation is currently pending, but should commence during the week of July 27th.

In summary, Innovations Medspa is one of a very small group of practices that Solta Medical relies on for pre-market feedback and evaluations of new Thermage technologies.
